

Would you like to share your views on hepatitis C treatment?

If so, we would like to speak to you.

Researchers at La Trobe University are studying experiences of hepatitis C and treatment.

The study is open to Australians living in Victoria or NSW aged 18 and over who acquired hepatitis C through medical procedures.

People with current and past experiences of hepatitis C treatment are encouraged to participate.

Participation involves a confidential audio recorded interview of about one hour, and you will be reimbursed $50 for your time.

The interviews will be conducted online, over the phone or in person if possible, in a location to suit you.

Participants are not required to share identifiable information and strict privacy protocols ensure anonymity.

Who do I contact if I want more information or want to take part in the study?
